Deadline date for acceptance or declination of the Course is: January 23, 2015.

The following information is provided to give you a better perspective of this course:

1. COURSE DESCRIPTION AND OBJECTIVES:

This physically demanding five-week course is designed to provide 24 tactical officers and supervisors, with the skills needed to conduct basic tactical (crisis) responses to terrorist activities. It is considered a highly interactive, physically demanding training program. The course will familiarize participants with CRT tactics and techniques in a variety of environments and offers frequent opportunities to practice these skills. Because a CRT must function as a cohesive unit, the Crisis Response Team course uses a team approach to training and skills application. Consequently, participants who belong to the same CRT receive the most benefit from the training presented.

Course topics include, but are not limited to: evolution of CRTs; pistol and carbine basic and advance course of fire; improvised explosive devices (IEDs) and booby traps; weapon retention drills; defensive tactics; and subject control techniques; use of force; scouting and diagramming; tactical communications; close quarters battle (CQB); diversionary tactics; use of ballistic shields; marking cartridge and live-fire operations; incident management; tactical planning and options; immediate, deliberate, and direct-to-threat assaults; vehicle assaults; and high-risk raids.

At the conclusion of this course, participants will be able to use basic skills necessary to resolve high-risk terrorist confrontations using a variety of options employing the minimum amount of force necessary to protect human life. Participants must keep in mind that half of the training consists of Close Quarters Battle techniques and the second largest piece of the training deals with live-fire using both handguns and shoulder weapons. For almost 85% of this course is extremely demanding and is done outside of a classroom setting.

Training hours are 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, however, these hours may be adjusted depending on local customs. Course attire is business dress for the course opening and graduation ceremonies. Business casual dress is appropriate at all other times unless otherwise specified due to the nature of the course.

2. PARTICIPANT CRITERIA:

This course is designed for 24 tactical officers, and supervisors, from the same tactical team (QRT). This course is physically demanding and requires strenuous physical exertion; therefore participants must be in excellent physical condition and good health in order to attend this course. Night-time training exercises take place throughout this five-week course in addition to regularly scheduled classes. All participants are required to participate in all physical training sessions and practical field exercises. Please do not select participants who are not members of QRT and in no way the members selected are the once doing seat jobs.

3. PARTICIPANT INFORMATION:

GOI is requested to forward the name, rank, date/place of birth, and current position title and unit of each participant selected for this course. Participants Diplomatic Note from CPV Division/; VISA forms DS-160 (<https://ceac.state.gov/genniv/>), prints on laser printer only; medical reports, positively by February 13, 2015.

GOI must also provide this biographic data for five designated alternate candidates for this course. These alternate candidates must be approved and vetted, along with the list of primary participants, prior to the commencement of training, however, they will NOT/NOT attend or participate in the training unless a candidate from the primary list is unable to participate due to vetting, medical, or other issues. It is imperative that the invited country understand that providing alternate names does not guarantee these candidates will receive ATA training and they should not be sent for training unless one of the original participants is dropped from training prior to the commencement of the course. Once the course/activity is in progress alternate candidates will not be authorized to attend.

DS/T/ATA requires that the GOI appoint a senior leader for the group. This individual should have the authority to maintain class order and discipline.

4. COURSE LANGUAGE:

This course will be taught in English with simultaneous interpretation into Hindi. All materials will be in English.

5. MEDICAL CLEARANCES:

Some participants in prior DS/T/ATA courses have had infectious diseases such as AIDS, malaria, or hepatitis. Participants in ATA courses are required to undergo medical screening standards and procedures for all ATA courses held in the US.

This course involves physical activities involving a potential for injury that could result in exposure to communicable and/or infectious diseases. Because of this risk and DS/T/ATA's responsibilities as described in the previous paragraph, DS/T/ATA has established the following medical standards for participants in ATA courses delivered in the US:

(a) The GOI must certify in writing that course participants are in excellent health and free of disease, illness, or other health problems that would limit their participation in this course. Absences from any portion of the course to treat pre-existing medical conditions are not acceptable and may result in the participant returning home.

(b) All participants must complete medical screening for hepatitis A, B, and C; HIV/AIDS; malaria; tuberculosis; and sexually transmitted diseases.

6. PARTICIPANT TRAVEL

All course participants must travel on the same flights to and from the training site. The schedule for the group travel to arrive at Washington, D.C. on March 7, 2015 and for departure on April 11, 2015.

GOI should advise the participants that travel outside of the training site area on evenings or weekends, other than travel or activities sponsored by DS/T/ATA, is prohibited.

DS/ATA discourages any personal travel by the participants in U.S.A. after the training. However, if a participant still intends to do a personal travel, it cannot begin before April 11, 2015, which should be authorized by the Government of India Parent Unit. The Government of India must provide the travel itinerary of the participants as well as points of contact including name, address and telephone number by February 13, 2015. The course participant is responsible for any costs incurred as a result of his/her personal travel.

Please note that spouses, relatives and dependents cannot be accommodated in any way in the ATA program processes or activities.

7. PARTICIPANT CLOTHING:

The weather in North Carolina during March and April has average daytime temperatures in the 50s and 60s (degrees F) with average nighttime temperatures in the 30s (degrees F). Course attire is business dress for the course opening and graduation. Business casual dress is appropriate at all other times unless otherwise specified due to the nature of the course. Participants should bring one dress suit (or jacket and tie), suitable clothing for their free time, and appropriate recreational clothing and workout gear.

8. LODGING

DS/T/ATA policy for all domestic training courses is double occupancy unless there are females or exigent circumstances that preclude this. The delegation leader will be lodged in a single room whenever possible. Please be sure to indicate the gender of each participant. Lodging will be either in a dormitory, if available, at the training site. GOI must ensure course participants understand that any additional costs such as telephone calls, pay-per-view movies, or room service is the responsibility of the course participants.

9. PARTICIPANT STIPEND:

GOI is requested to provide $555.00 to each course participant as their full subsistence grant. These funds are intended to pay for the participant's incidental expenses while in training - no other funds are allotted. Meals and lodging are provided at no cost to the participants.

Please advise in writing no later than February 9, 2015, if the GOI accepts this course offering under the terms and requirements cited above. Also, please address your response to the Regional Security Officer and if there are any questions, please contact the security office at the U.S. Embassy, telephone 2419-8000.

With warm regards,

Sincerely,

Charles J. Horkey
